Harried Staff Has New IBM System

Automation is nine-tenths an accomplished fact at Omaha University as far as records are concerned.

John F. Heckinger of University Services said a "407" accounting machine was expected to be added yesterday to the seven IBM punch card machines and electronic computers already installed at the University.

"No present staff members have been replaced by the machines," Mr. Heckinger said, "and none will be replaced in the future, although the duties of some will be changed."

The increase in enrollment is expected to take up any slack which may be created by the efficiency of the machines.

One of the jobs done by the machines at OU was a breakdown of last semester's grades into "A through F" hours per student.

The machines are now being used to compute OU fraternity scholastic averages, a list of academically deficient students, an honors list and the University payroll.

Mr. Heckinger said the machines will "greatly facilitate grade reports, giving each student an indication of his cumulative average at the same time."

The machines will be used in May to assist in registration. "We can't eliminate long lines of students," Mr. Heckinger said, "but we can speed them up by using machines."

One of the byproducts of the machines will be the compiling of a quarterly tax report which must be submitted by the University.

Blood Donors Provide 90 Pints

Blood donors didn't exactly come out in droves Wednesday, but considering the weather the Red Cross felt the campaign to be relatively successful.

From the approximately 35-hundred day students only ninety-nine students signed to donate. Nine of these were rejected. Seventy-nine of these represented various social groups on campus.

A trophy was awarded to the group recruiting the most donors. This year Pi Kappa Alpha won with forty-four participants. Sigma Kappa brought in twelve donors.

Zeta Tau Alpha, Alpha Xi Delta and Lambda Chi Alpha each were responsible for four donors. Sigma Phi Epsilon and the Independent Students Association had three donors.

Chi Omega gave two pints. Tau Kappa Epsilon, Theta Chi and the P.E. Majors each gave one pint.

William H. Fischer and Jack J. Vaccaro hit eight pints Wednesday entitling them to a gallon pin.

None of the other campus organizations made any effort in the campaign.

The quota was 150 signed donors.

Mrs. Artemis Payne said that the Douglas-Sarpy county blood bank chapter services 77 counties. The blood bank distributes about 50,000 pints a year to 106 hospitals in the Nebraska and Iowa area.

In the future the Red Cross plans to be on campus twice a year—once in October and again in March.

The past campaign was sponsored by Alpha Pi Omega, a service fraternity.

Four-time donor Tom Frazier shows how easy it is.

Felix Greene Speaks Tonight

Red China expert Felix Greene will deliver a first-hand account of today's China at the second University Nights presentation tonight.

Greene's 8 p.m. address in the Conference Center Auditorium will be keyed to his book, "What Is Really Happening in China Today?"

The first trained observer from America to have made two Communist China tours, Greene has brought back extensive reports of his travels over the Chinese mainland.

Greene's first journey in 1957 brought Americans their first eyewitness report in China under Communist rule.

During his return trip in 1960, Greene traveled more than 10,000 miles to study all phases of Communist life. He became the first Western correspondent for many years to get an exclusive interview with Prime Minister Chou-En Lai and was the first correspondent associated with America to bring back color films of the Communists.

Between the two trips to China, Greene spent several months in the Far East and talked privately with Nehru, the Dalai Lama, the Foreign Ministers of Afghanistan and Indonesia and the Prime Minister of Nepal.

Traditional Ten Becomes Eleven

Best Clad Coeds Announced Tues.

The traditional Best-Dressed Coed contest pulled a switch Tuesday, naming an additional girl to the usual 10.

Mary Paulson, a 20-year-old junior majoring in home economics, was named the best-dressed coed.

The 10 runners-up were: Jackie Brady, Sharon McCallum, Gail Reisser, Jean Sibel, Midge Butters, Carol Ehinger, Karen Rasp, Marcia Cathcart, Kathy Bowman and Beverly Jones.

Two coeds were named to the contest's hall of fame. They were Sue Weidenhammer and Janet Gibson, both listed among last year's best-dressed. The hall of fame is open to girls who have received a high vote in the contest for two consecutive years.

Several honorable mentions were also given. The recipients were: Sarah Brader, Dotti Mott, Barbara Vaughn, JoAnne Volevec and Phyllis Taylor.

Appropriateness the Key

The contestants and winners were chosen by the sponsoring Home Economics Club, home ec instructors Margaret Killian and Carolyn Kundel and Dean of Women Elizabeth Hill.

Appropriateness was the key word of the contest, according to Sandy Deckert Blakeway, president of the Home Ec Club. Each contestant was judged on the total integrated picture she presents on campus, including the suitability of clothes to her and to the occasion, and personal grooming.

Miss Killian said of winner Mary Paulson: "She is always well-groomed, and she knows how to stretch her clothing dollar. She designs and makes most of her clothes, and shows her feeling for good lines and styles. Mary makes the most of her assets."

Giving an over-all rule to OU coeds, Miss Killian said "naturalness counts. I like to see the girl before the makeup."

Mary will now be eligible for the country-wide Glamour Magazine contest to determine the 10 best-dressed coeds in the United States.

Ernie Gorr Works With ROTC Cadets

Third-year ROTC cadets have started a fitness development program under the guidance of cross-country Coach Ernie Gorr.

The cadets will meet Monday and Wednesday mornings at 6:30. The activities include running, general calisthenics, weight lifting, rope climbing, and relays.

The purpose of the program is to increase and improve an optimum level of fitness among the cadets for their preparation for summer camp.

Jane Andersen Back After Fight with Flu

After fighting the flu the past four weeks, Miss Jane Andersen returned to OU Monday.

Miss Andersen, art instructor, said she did not have a flu shot. She recommends students to get the shot if they haven't done so. Four weeks is a long time to be sick, she added.

President Bail Initiates Evaluation of OU Role

The role of the University of Omaha in meeting its future obligations is under discussion by President Milo Bail and departmental and college heads in a series of weekly meetings initiated February 12.

Dr. Bail summed up the purpose of the meetings: "We want to determine if we are prepared to give graduates a broad general background and the skills and tools necessary to earn a living in some specialized area."

The first meeting was devoted to a review of a report submitted to the State Legislature in 1959. The report projected the University's role ten years into the future, considering enrollment and expected needs of the institution.

The present enrollment already exceeds the projected number for 1962 as set forth in the report. Dr. Bail said these faculty meetings will be used in revising the report.

At the second meeting last Monday, Dr. Wardle of the English department, Dr. Paul of the speech department, and Associate Professor Paul V. Peterson of the journalism department were asked to lead discussion of each of their respective departments.

Dr. Paul maintained all students in liberal arts should take a speech course, and those who need speech help should be screened out and given special assistance.

Dr. Wardle also expressed concern for students who need special help in English, stressing the need for utilization of English major seniors as lab assistants.

Professor Peterson supported the idea, stating that many journalism students are employed by the local media and provide a source of guidance to beginning students.

The group discussed the advisability of using teaching machines at OU, and were generally agreed there might be some value in such devices, but the human element provided by an instructor is still necessary.

At the next meeting, March 5, the social sciences will be discussed, starting with Professor William Utley, political science department head.

Tomahawk Editor Wins Scholarship

Karen Pope

Karen Pope, 1962 Tomahawk editor, was awarded a $200 scholarship by the Association of the Nebraska Industrial Editors.

The scholarship was presented to Karen by L. M. Bradley, president of ANIE, on Febr. 15 at a luncheon at the Blackstone Hotel.

The scholarship, which is to cover this semester's tuition, is one of two given annually to a senior student actively interested in the field of industrial journalism.

A student from Creighton University was the recipient of the second scholarship.

Science Grants Assist Three

The Nebraska Co-operative College Teachers Program has awarded one fellowship and two research grants to three Omaha University teachers.

Mathematics and physics instructor Floyd D. Ellerbeck was awarded a fellowship that provides a one-year leave of absence with full pay for graduate study.

Chemistry instructors Dr. C. Robert Keppel and Dr. W. W. Linstromberg received research grants ranging from $100-$500.

The program to improve science teaching in Nebraska is financed by the $159,800 grant given to the University of Nebraska by the Foundation. In addition to the three OU aids, 13 other aids were given to science teachers throughout the state.

Editorial: Student Interest Down

By Linda Bolton

One of the most authoritative current affairs experts, apparently unfamiliar to Omaha University students, discussed on this campus last Sunday, the national and international problems facing Americans.

The speaker was William L. Shirer, author of "The Rise and Fall of the Third Reich." He emphasized his opinion that the next decade will be the "crucial ten years" for Americans.

However, of the total day school enrollment, consisting primarily of the youth whose interests should concern tomorrow's world, only one per cent was there to hear Shirer, one of the most sought-after speakers in this country.

Shirer's picture and the date of his appearance have been on display outside the Conference Center Auditorium since the beginning of the fall semester, last week's GATEWAY carried a front-page story on his appearance and notes about Shirer were sent to teachers Friday by the College of Adult Education, which sponsors the event through University Nights. In spite of these many announcements, the other 99 per cent of the students ignored the opportunity to hear the author whose book ranked second only to the Bible in last year's book sales.

The lack of interest in Shirer's appearance is by no means an isolated instance, but instead serves as a meaningful illustration of several similar events.

Last semester, also as a part of the University Nights program, other important and equally distinguished speakers received even less response than Shirer.

Shirer's appearance was the initial session of the spring University Nights series. Within the next seven weeks, six other recognized figures will appear in person on campus and one lecture by anthropologist Dr. Margaret Mead will be presented.

Changes Affect OU SAC Staff

Two former OU faculty members were affected by a recent shift in educational personnel at Offutt AFB, Dean Frank Gorman of the College of Education announced Monday.

Mr. Ben Zeff has relinquished his position as director of curriculum for SAC at Offutt and is being replaced by Dr. Garland S. Woolard.

Mr. Zeff has accepted an offer to become director of curriculum for the entire United States armed forces and will be located at the Pentagon in Washington, D.C. He earned his master's degree at OU and was a part-time instructor in education at the University the past several years.

Dr. Woolard is returning to the United States from Spain, where he was superintendent of all USAF dependent schools in that country. Prior to that assignment he was an associate professor of education at OU.

Vogt Named Goodwill Pres.

By Ernie Gruber

Philip H. Vogt, Associate Professor of Sociology, is the newly-elected president of the Goodwill Industries in Omaha.

He has been associated with this volunteer organization for nearly 20 years.

Mr. Vogt said that he would like to see campus organizations become interested in the Goodwill Industries in the way of drives for collecting clothing, furniture and appliances. The Goodwill Industries have just one annual drive put on by the Boy Scouts in Omaha.

The campus organization putting on a "Goodwill Drive" would be doing a community service, he said.

The organizations could use the theme "Make Help You Hob-

Mr. Jim Schmidt and Philip H. Vogt, two members of staff of Goodwill Industries in Omaha.

bie" which is the motto used by the Volunteer Service Bureau on campus.

Any organization interested in such a drive should contact Mr. Vogt.

New Building

The Goodwill Industries working in Omaha since 1934 have recently moved from the old location, 1013 No. 16th St. into a new building.

The new building at 41st and Pacific Sts., north of the Douglas County Hospital serves as the Industries main office and plant.

Mr. Vogt said the plant workers are referred to as "clients" because they are the ones the Goodwill wants to help. The "clients" are given individual interviews and tests to determine their highest potential.

"Their capabilities are not measured only by physical equipment and intelligence but also by their personality, adjustment to disabilities, work habits, mental and physical health," Mr. Vogt said.

One of the first objectives of the Goodwill is to help handicapped individuals become self-supporting. This is accomplished by teaching the handicapped skills such as assembly work, appliance repair, furniture repair, upholstery, janitorial work, painting, sewing and shoe repair.

Volunteers Needed

The handicapped workers are paid wages for restoring "attic treasures" such as furniture, clothing and appliances that are sold in five stores located throughout Omaha.

By means of sub-contracts, the Goodwill Contract Department has found employment for many of its trained handicapped workers.

Mr. Vogt said: "The determination of the handicapped workers in supporting themselves saves the Omaha taxpayers one-quarter of a million dollars a year."

The handicapped workers in Omaha pay between 25 and 30 thousand dollars a year in income taxes, he said.

The Goodwill Industries needs help in producing its main product—self-supporting handicapped workers.

All volunteers will find their efforts welcomed into this community service program, Mr. Vogt said.

Over One Hundred Entered In CIC Indoor Track Meet

More than 100 track men have entered in the Central Intercollegiate Conference annual championship meet scheduled for this weekend in the Fieldhouse.

The meet, the fourth of its kind, should prove to be a fast and tough race for titles.

Entries are from Omaha, Washburn, Fort Hays and Emporia State.

Emporia, recent victor over Omaha, is expected to be their usual tough self. They will have defending champions Bill Farrow putting the shot, and Charles Richards in the high jump, trying to keep their wins.

Emporia is also counting on a host of new men to help hang onto last year's championship.

Omaha, very strong with fresh talent also, will be looking toward Roger Sayers for a repeat in the 60-yard dash. Sayers should also be watched in his other strong sprinting events.

Omaha's freshmen might bring some surprises.

Fort Hays is strong in the 880, pole vault and the hurdles.

The meet opens tonight with preliminaries and semi-finals. The high jump will be the only event to finish up tonight.

Saturday, the field events will begin at 11:30 a.m. and the running at 1:30.

Throttled by reliable lettermen and fresh rookies, the track team downed Nebraska Wesleyan 55½-48½ Monday night in the Fieldhouse.

The meet, scheduled as a triangular, was limited to a dual when bad road conditions kept Morningside of Sioux City from making the trip.

Tom Ash helped the winning cause by taking his first win in the mile.

Mike Meils tied in the shot with a throw of 42-10½. Jim Foster took the broad jump with 22-5½. Roger Sayers swept the 60-yard dash, the 60-yard low hurdles and the 440-yard run.

Herb Rhodes, Loren Drum and Ray Hultman finished one-two-three in the 880.

OU Cagers Win First CIC Test

Omaha University's Indians, despite holding leads of as much as 15 points at one time, needed a last second basket by Bruce Hunter to defeat Pittsburg State in the Fieldhouse Saturday night.

The victory, achieved before the largest Omaha home crowd of the year, ran the OU record to 5-13, best since the 1953 season when the Indians won a total of six ball games.

The game started in typical fashion with the Gorillas taking an early lead before Omaha could come back. This time the Indians came all the way back and took the lead, 36-32 at the half.

Contrary to prior performances, the Indians came out after intermission and went right to work on the Kansans, taking a quick 49-37 lead.

Omaha could have coasted in, but the Indians decided to do some running, and before they knew what had happened, the Gorillas were right back in the game at 65-64 with 38 seconds left to play.

The jittery Indians then proceeded to lose the ball and Gary Arnett promptly stuffed in a bucket to put the Gorillas on top for the first time since the early moments at 66-65.

The stage was set for Hunter's heroics and the cool junior responded with a 20-footer with six seconds to go.

The Omaha U-Emporia State game scheduled for last Wednesday night was cancelled. It was not known whether or not the game would be rescheduled.

Lloyd Cardwell, Tom Ash, Alan Roberts and Roger Sayers combined to take the mile relay in 3:34.1.

Emporia State was too strong for Omaha and South Dakota as they piled up 61 1/3 winning points. Omaha finished with 39 5/6 and the Dakotans with 27 5/6.

Three Fieldhouse records were smashed last Thursday in the meet. A 52-foot shot put by Bill Goldhammer of Emporia was the first to break a record. Then came Ireland Sloan with his 9:22.1 in the two mile run. South Dakota's mile relay team was clocked at 3:25.4.

Rocket Roger Sayers took his usual events and broke the school record in the 440 with a time of 50.9.

Jim Foster took the broad jump and Dave Hagglund tied in the high jump.

Grapplers Win Second in Row

Indian grapplers posted their second upset in as many weeks Saturday night by squeezing past South Dakota State, 74-68, in a quadrangular meet at Brookings, S. D.

Louie Miloni started the ball rolling in the Omaha victory by posting a 5-2 win over Gary Yost of North Dakota State. Yost had a career collegiate record of 18 wins and two losses entering the match.

Omaha's reliable heavyweight Art Ferguson secured the Omaha upset by taking a 3-2 decision from Roger Eischens of the South Dakota Jackrabbits.

After winning four straight, George Crenshaw came to the end of his victory string by losing 7-4 to John Sterner of South Dakota State. Sterner was a former standout wrestler at Boystown. Mike Sterner, John's brother, and also an ex-Cowboy, decided Indian Wayne Backes.

Freshman John DeGeorge came home with two victories under his belt as did Jim Howard.

In Intramurals ...

Pi Kaps Grab Indoor Track Championship

The Pi Kaps edged out the Sig Eps 41-39½ to capture the intramural indoor track championship.

The "O" Club finished third and the Panthers fourth.

Steve Gidley, Pi Kaps and Loren Fritz, Sig Eps, set new records in the meet.

Gidley set a new record in the pole vault with a 9-ft. 7¼-in. jump.

Fritz ran a 5:22.5 mile to set a new record in that event.

Ron Toman, Pi Kaps, won the high jump at 5 ft. 6 in.

Steve Lipman, "O" Club, leaped 19 ft. ¼ in. in the broad jump.

Warren Lenz, Unaffiliated, won the shot put with a heave of 37 ft. 9 in.

Louie Miloni won the 60-yard dash in 6.7 seconds.

Chip Bowley, "O" Club, ran the 440-yard dash in 60 seconds. The 60-yard low hurdles winner was Jerry Callahan, Sig Eps, in 7.9 seconds.

Bill Donahoo, Pi Kaps, ran the 880-yard run in 2:23.5 to win that event.

The mile relay was won by the Sig Eps (Randy Curnow, Jack Benedict, Loren Fritz and Duane McKernan) with a time of 4:07.5.

Basketball

The quarterfinals of the intramural basketball tournament began last Wednesday with eight teams out of the original 21 left to compete for the championship this coming Monday night.

These teams are: the Zeke Moe Joes, Untouchables, Theta Chi, Hilltoppers, Blacksheep, P.E. Majors, Sig Eps and the Lorpees.

Omaha University baseballers open work-outs in the Fieldhouse Monday at 3:30.

LESSON 3 - Concerning self-control

Although we believe that girl watching has it all over bird watching, we feel that these two hobbies do share one important characteristic. They are both gentle. They both respect the rights of the watched. A girl watcher who asks a beautiful stranger for her name and phone number is like a bird watcher who steals eggs. (If the stranger happens to have a pack of Pall Mall Famous Cigarettes, and you're dying for a good, natural smoke, you may break this rule.) Normally, the girl watcher's pleasure is warm, quiet and internal. However, there are cases when a discovery is so dazzling it must be shared. Such a case is illustrated above.
